

Lord Metatron Conference Call with Carolyn Evers

May 2009

Thank you for being here. Thank you for your support. We have spoken many times that your cooperation with us in the spiritual hierarchy has made a great difference. Presently you do not see this, but the new energies that have recently come to your planet with the full moon will make a great difference for humanity and your planet.

Up to now you, by cooperating with us, have laid the foundation for these energies. These energies are a part of energies from other stars near Polaris, the North Pole star. The Earth has shifted some on its axis as normally happens during this time of year. This shifting is caused by angles that occur between the Earth, sun and the angle with the equator. It is difficult for you to see such angles, but know that they do exist and in their declination, open small openings whereby these new energies are able to come to Earth.

The stars have been playing their role with Polaris. You might want to know how these energies come to Earth. Well what is happening is that Earth is located in a part of the precessional cycle that allows these energies to come to Earth. This is in addition to the light foundation that you have created by working with us. Without your cooperation, these energies would not be able to come to Earth this far in advance of the general cycle.

So what has happened is that your work and light brought forth and added to the grid system has attracted these energies and for that we are grateful to you because it makes the transition to a new Earth easier.

We have spoken many times that this is a planet of free will. Know that bringing in the Creator's plan will always come to pass, but when humanity on some level wishes to create with God's work, the transitions come about in a more balanced manner. This we find attractive. We want change to be as balanced as possible.

We have worked with balancing the male/female polarity for souls and that includes the balancing of human thought. This part has not come to complete fruition as of yet, but it will help. Presently there is a sifting process occurring whereby humanity is deciding what is desired in their world experiences.

There have been grand changes in the economy, the work force, and in the political arena. Leaders and the people are evaluating what they want in their lives with regard to objectives, standards and living conditions. In this the spiritual belief systems will be evaluated and together humanity will decide what is truth and what standards they wish to apply to their journey.

Placed into the mix is that souls from every life stream that inhabited your planet at one time or another are here to join in on these decisions. They are being given another chance to correct past mistakes. We have mentioned that the Atlantean cycle is coming to a close and in that many who lived during that period of advancement and decline are back to work again at clearing their mistakes and progressing the lines of development for humanity. Some will definitely change their actions and heal their souls and the wounds that they helped place upon the planet and humanity itself. Some will not.

Your work is helping to clear these channels to bring forth as much positive growth for you, humanity and the planet.

Tonight we will continue to work with balancing and working on a foundation for your changing cells. There is much changing in your physical bodies along with the outer cells. As we said earlier the entire interior system is changing and it is integrating to the spiritual messages that are coming from outer space.

These new energies of which we speak are the beginning of forming the outside force for which your physical body, including all the cells, will integrate with and become based upon the spiritual energies which are beginning to come to Earth.

You did choose a wondrous time to incarnate upon your beautiful planet. What is being seen as negative experiences upon Earth are indeed not. We spoke of what chaos meant; that it is but a rearranging of energies and particles that are contained in your dimension.

Now you and the new energies are allowing the foundation to be built to connect your physical body to spiritual energies. Your cooperation also allows changes in the grid system that will serve all of humanity. You indeed are contributing to wondrous work.
