

Lord Metatron Conference Call for November 2009

November 17, 2009

You must know that I hold the keys of consciousness between humanity and Source or All-There-Is, and in that office I understand the emotions of humanity. I send my compassion to all of you on this conference call along with the one who brings forth my messages. It is a time of great struggle between the light and the dark, but needless to say their days are numbered.

And if the truth be known, they also know their days are numbered and it is why they are putting forth such a tremendous fight at the moment. The dark ones have prevailed in the past with souls and their working relationship with your planet. They believe that since they won every other struggle in the past, victory would be theirs this time also.

All-Their-Is called forth the dark and communicated with them that the dark reign would stop at this round. Many went home when they were called and understood that the game of the dark was over. The ones that are left are very determined to have their way. Their intentions are to take over the souls on Earth and the planet itself. This will not be allowed. So this struggle goes on.

I tell you this because there is still much darkness ahead on planet Earth. The threat of earthquakes is still there. The threat of the unwinding of the economic system is still there. You still hear of the violence that is coming forth in areas where the military are involved along with violence in civilian areas. It might seem that the conditions in the world are worsening, but this is not true.

What is happening is that so much that has been hidden or undercover is now coming forth and becoming known to the world. The darkness was always been there but when it was hidden it was difficult to clear. Now that this darkness has surfaced, it comes into your awareness as human beings and there is the ability now to clear it and cleanse the Earth of its negativity.

I wanted to make you aware of these conditions so that you can take heart and understand that the reality of the struggle between the light and the dark is not what it seems to be. It is more or less a struggle that is in its death throes.

Do not become aligned with the stories that news reporters bring forth. So much of this is fabricated. So much of the news is constructed in such a way that the intention is there to keep humanity within its grip of fear. There is a campaign to keep humanity struggling in the dark. The dark knows that where there is fear, there is division, and it becomes difficult to love. The dark understands that love will conquer all.

Beneath this struggle with the light and the dark, mother Earth is also going through changes. All of the energy that you have been working with has also gone into the core of the Earth. As you know these energies have been transformative for you and I am here to remind you that these energies are transformative for the Earth also.

As you are integrating these energies, the Earth is also integrating the energies. There is great healing going on within the core of the Earth and as this healing continues, negative energy that has been absorbed must also be cleared. This should be of no surprise because it is happening with you also. The new energies that are coming are designed to help humanity and your planet to release all negativity and the remains of all the forces of darkness.

So you can also understand that the Earth requires the integration of these energies, clearing of what needs to be cleared and assistance in helping to stabilize the planet along its axis and in the path that it takes around the Sun.

For your work tonight I encourage you to come with me to help clear the darkness from the ethers around your planet, along with the dark that are still struggling to take over the Earth. This struggle is especially felt in areas where there has been great military strife. We don't need to mention the areas as your intention would call forth any area where brother picks up a weapon against another brother or sister.

Also included in our intentions tonight should be the desire to help those who are searching for work but cannot find employment. We also wish to intend to help those who find themselves homeless today or are sleeping in automobiles. Our intentions should also cover those who are sick and have no one to take care of them nor do they have necessary medicines to ease their afflictions. Along with these noble intentions, add your own intentions.

As you know, working in a group increases the results of the intentions by the number of individuals working in the group, then multiply that by 10. That becomes the force of the group, but when we place these intentions under the protection and force of All-There-Is, the force of the intent can be endless.

We have come forth tonight because we have heard the cries of humanity. My heart is full of compassion towards you and the rest of the souls on earth and the planet itself. So much of what is happening today is merely perception and not truth. The truth has become twisted in so many areas of life today, and our intention should also be focused upon bringing forth the truth in every area of life today.

There is not much time between now and the year 2012 where the dark will finally be divided from the light. It is for this reason that they struggle so because they only have a short time in which to continue their harassment of those of the light. All-There-Is has invited them to come home so many times, yet they hold out even to the end.

The Creator-Of-All loves every soul that has ever been created. The Creator intends that the dark come home and wishes to give them more leeway with the hope and desire that they will change their intent and accept love again. Love is the answer to every challenge that is upon Earth. Love is the factor that heals every disruption. Love is what heals the heart. Love is what brings people together. Love is what brings contentment, happiness, and today it also brings prosperity.

And now for the meditation.
