

Messages for July 1 2011 New Moon Eclipse

Today is Tuesday, 28th June 2011, and Carolyn and I are here to take the messages for this coming new moon and partial eclipse on 1 July, and the first to come forth with a message in relation to this is Jeshua, and let us see what he has to say;

It is time to close the door on the powerful energies that have been coming to your planet during this extraordinary month. The impact of these energies is for the most part not yet visible in your dimension; however make no mistake about their impact. All that has been discussed at the beginning of the month with that new moon eclipse and with all that has since unfolded is packaged in these energies, and for the most part you don't yet see it visible in your dimension, in your current awareness. However make no mistake, it will all unfold. These energies are the turning point for great change on your planet.

As you recognise, the time between now and the December 2012 solstice is just some 18 months, indeed a few days less now, and it is this period which will be used to prepare humanity for this extraordinary transition. Yes, there have been what you might call Ascensions on many other planets, so in this sense what is happening upon Earth is not new. However the totality of what is unfolding and all that it represents, all the cycles that it is contributing to the end of, the beginning of the in-breath of this cycle of Brahma, the end of the cycle of the dark and many more; so many cycles are aligned with that moment, and so this eclipse on 1 July is like the capstone of the pyramid. It is the final piece of the puzzle, if you will that has made up this powerful month of energies; and it is perhaps the best way to look at this eclipse, as the capstone of this powerful volume, this powerful structure of energies which have come forth upon your planet. It in its own way completes those energies and closes the door on this powerful, powerful period which has locked into place all that will unfold over the next 18 months or so upon your planet, and those changes in all their many forms will indeed begin to be seen as the days and weeks unfold from this moment. And so it is.

Carolyn - I'm and waiting here for the next being who might wish to give us a message. There's no one that comes into my awareness at this moment. I see several females, all connected with the divine feminine, so I will connect with whichever one wishes to discuss this moment in what we call time, and it seems that each one of them wishes to give a message from their own perspective, and the first one that comes into my awareness is Mother God.

We have brought many messages of enthusiasm for this what you call point in time. As my son Jeshua has said, it is the culmination of energies. It is like a door had opened and a rush of energy, this headwind almost, came charging through the open doorway, and it came with such volume, such strength, and then the door closed, and it is now implementing, integrating into your dimension. And so the things that we said originally, you may not be experiencing at this moment, but if there was silence in your heart and you went within, you might feel the changes, and they will be surfacing soon. And so it is.

And so I become aware of several other what we might consider female goddesses, and they each come from different points of time, when their influence was great upon the Earth, and we look at Isis at the moment. She is saying;

I am about healing as you know, and this particular month strong energies for healing came through that open doorway that has been discussed in this message of July 1st. It is a time of great energies, and one of those energies that are intertwined with this is healing. So much must be healed, and humanity must understand that they are their own healer. For too long you have looked to others to heal you, and understand that you, my friends are the bearer of this ability. There's nothing wrong with asking your sisters and your brothers to help you, but to rely continuously upon the help of others negates that belief that you are able to do this yourself. So hopefully this will be a moment of empowerment for you, empowerment in the sense that you start to look upon your own healing as being directed by your own mind upon your physical body. There is this very strong connection; you'd speak of it all the time, this connection between body, soul and mind and yet you do not act upon this; and so I have come forth to give you a reminder that your energies for self-healing have been ramped up in your awareness. They've always been there, but this is the moment to start to implement that belief in your mind, so that you start to use this to heal the body and to heal the spirit. And so it is.

My awareness now moves as a spotlight so to speak, upon Mary Magdalene, and she is saying;

For so long, humanity has not revered and placed emphasis, compatibility with the divine feminine. She has been clothed in an attire that does not allow her to take her rightful place. So the energies that have come in is an awareness of the divine feminine and her importance. Without the compassion of the divine feminine, life will continue to go on in a warring phase, with the domination of the masculine over the feminine; and it is this month, this energy that will help you step up to that line of empowerment. Know who you are; know that whether you are male or female in bodily form, you hold the attributes of the soul that is both male and female, androgynous, they say. Everyone must wear the banner of compassion. It is where the Earth is poised now, at this moment; to look upon all in the element of oneness, in the element of compassion for all of the parts of that oneness, as indeed it is. Like a myriad of droplets in an ocean of water; the ocean is the oneness, the droplets are the individual. You play both roles, my friends. And so it is.

There is a group here of female expressions from many lifetimes; the young woman, the birth of the dream, that expansion in awareness where each woman gathers the information of who she is and what she can do, and then there is the crone, many crones in the group, where they have gathered the wisdom and the understanding of what the divine feminine meant in the world and will mean again. Her glory has been trampled upon, but it is the energy that is, you might say contained in what will be the New Earth. It will be used by all souls that wish to tap into this, because all is related to each other in oneness; and you can tap into this information, this glory that will help you understand who you are and from where you came. And so it is.
