

Messages for the December 2011 Full Moon and Eclipse

Today is Sunday, the 4th of December 2011, and Carolyn and I are here to take the messages for the coming Full Moon on the 10th of December, which is also a total eclipse of the moon, and the first to come forth with a message in regard to this is Jeshua, and so let us see what he has to say.

It is my privilege and pleasure to come forth with this message for you. It has been a while since I have come forth in this manner, however this is such a precious, important time that I truly feel honoured to be here, and I say this because what is unfolding as I give you this message are the initial phases of the emergence of rejuvenation upon your planet. This event will unfold across the planet over the next year, and it is truly a remarkable event.

It truly is like the butterfly coming forth from the chrysalis; that your current form is that of the caterpillar, you might say, and the brief time between when you experience the rejuvenation command and when your own rejuvenation comes forth is like that time spent in the chrysalis. It is really that powerful a transformation, and as I have said in the past, there is a new consciousness that you will begin to experience once your rejuvenation is complete. And so it is a very, very exciting time, and I begin this message with these words for two reasons; firstly, because that is the truth of the matter and we have been working long and hard to see this come forth, but also because the energies of this full moon mark the moment when the evidence will be present in your dimension, and almost to the day when the evidence will be announced to the world. And so I wish to acknowledge this, and to acknowledge the extraordinary power that this eclipse and full moon represents, and simply have you mark this moment in this way. And so it is.

Carolyn – At this moment, I see Alorah coming forth. There is such great majesty about her that you cannot miss the, I want to say queenliness. There are those who represent royalty. She glides like a queen as she comes closer. In the past I have seen her with colourful robes, but today she is all in white, and the cloth in her robe seems to float. The top layers are so soft and sheer, it is if they float on the air themselves, and the folds in her sleeves are full; very artistic. The line of the bodice is empire, with gathers across the chest, and there is a chain around her neck, and it appears to be a diamond, and she is saying she is wearing this to represent the Christ consciousness.

This doesn't refer to Jeshua, but a consciousness that was present very early in Creation, a consciousness that shows up in diamond-like rays. This consciousness was brought to Earth several years ago, and hidden in the depths of the area called the Tor, near Glastonbury, where it has filtered down to the core of the Earth. It was the preparation for the development of this new consciousness that is coming to Earth. It was a platform where this new consciousness will infiltrate all of the particles surrounding Earth and the particles of the grid system, and there will be what appears to be a joining of new energies that come to Earth, and join with this platform that was planted several years ago. And it appears like so many configurations that have a design very similar to two tetrahedrons overlapping one another, that you are very familiar with when we call it the "Star of David", because it is a symbol that has been on the Earth for a long time.

And when they come together, they will spin. They will form their own vortex. That vortex will clear away those energies from the old consciousness that no longer serve humanity, and in the swirling of the vortex, it will pull in more of the new consciousness, so that there will be a clearing away of the old and an infiltration of the new. It will happen simultaneously, as there cannot be a vacuum in consciousness. You will feel it. You will feel yourself changing, and it is the manner in which all great and significant changes occur. This will not be unnoticed.

All will feel the changes. It will seem like an awakening, and those who understand what is happening, will feel the joy of the Heavens, as this energy combines with the present. Joy, love and compassion will be the three most significant energetic emotions, and I say energetic because there is great movement in those emotions. They are not sluggish, like some dark emotions that settle down and seem to make you feel enmeshed. These are light and happy emotions that, when experienced to the fullest, lift you up. And it connects you with others that are being lifted up. It will be called joining in the oneness, as that is what this new consciousness is, the joining in oneness of love, compassion, joy. Those three elements are the cornerstones of the new consciousness.
