

Messages for the June 2010 solstice

Today is Saturday, 5 June and Carolyn and I are here to receive the messages in regard to the coming June solstice, and those that have come forth to give us messages in regard to this are Jeshua and Mother Mary. And so we will begin with Jeshua's message to me, and he is saying;

This coming solstice is perhaps the most powerful event that has unfolded upon your planet since the energies that led to The Fall in Atlantis. Some of you are aware that indeed the time of the fall in Atlantis coincided with the last time that your planet was in alignment with the plane of the Milky Way galaxy, which is what will occur at the time of the December 2012 solstice; and perhaps this may give you some clue as to the power that will come forth upon your planet at that time. And so when I say that the energies that will come forth with this coming solstice are second only to that previous event, this might give you some sense of the power that will come forth. As many of you know that have been tracking these messages over the time that we have been putting them forth over the last couple of years, there have been many points where the energies have increased, where you could say the work that is being done has been ramped up by these energies coming forth and in many ways, whilst one could say they have been building towards the end of 2012, they have perhaps more accurately been building towards the energies to come forth with this June solstice. There has been much preparation work done leading towards this moment and the energies certainly will continue to evolve and in many ways strengthen from this moment, but you truly could describe the energies to come forth with this solstice as being a watershed.

There have been many steps taken to reduce the power of those of the dark, and as Richard commented in a recent Father God message, the beings of the dark have proven to be far more creative and resilient than those of the light ever imagined. Many of the steps that have been taken to curb their power have been far less effective than we had anticipated. Yes, they had some effect and some are aware of their reduced impact, however that impact has not been curtailed in the way that had been planned. And as with all such plans, there are always backups, there are always secondary approaches, there are always failsafes you could say, for the most critical elements to ensure that the overall plan for creation comes forth, and this June solstice you could consider to be one of those moments.

The energies coming forth with this event are such that they will be irresistible as far as those of the dark are concerned, and so these energies that will come forth will truly curtail the impact of those beings upon your planet. These energies will also bring forth another key transition and that is they will activate much of what needs to unfold by way of preparation between this time and the end of 2012. Some of you are aware of the karmic clearing and rejuvenation commands that have been given to Carolyn and Richard and some of you have already worked with the karmic clearing command and have seen the results come forth in your lives. With this solstice, the support for both of these commands will be dramatically ramped up. It is important that both of these commands come forth and be available to be used by many, many healers across the planet. They were never designed to be simply used by Carolyn and Richard as they are at this moment, however there was additional support that was going to be required for, for example the karmic clearing command to be used by other healers and the energies to support that are coming forth with this June solstice.

I mentioned at the previous full moon in May that the Christ Consciousness energies had begun to come forth to the planet with that full moon, and these energies are being dramatically increased by this event. And these truly are the energies that all of humanity will use to begin to create from the formless, to be able to truly reclaim your power as human beings, the ability to remember who and what you are as a soul, not just as a human being in this veiled consciousness that you have existed in. And so there are many, many levels that will truly transform as a result of these energies coming forth with this solstice. As I said at the beginning of this message, it is the most powerful energy that has come to your planet since those energies of The Fall in Atlantis and I do not use those words lightly. These are truly very powerful energies and I anticipate many, many people upon your planet will truly feel these energies in ways that previous major energetic gateways have, you could say passed them by.

And so this is my message to you. It is a moment of great transformation, a moment of great change, of great power where you could say the light is truly stamping its authority on what is unfolding on Earth, and truly beginning to reclaim it from those of the dark that have sought to dominate so much upon your planet. And so it is.

This is Mother Mary's message with regards to this solstice for June 2010;

My beloved friends, much has happened on your planet over this long, arduous journey from Atlantis to the present. The dark has held sway for the most part and as human consciousness fell into the very densest of levels, actually in the entire cosmos, there was a disconnect from the memory of who you are in that mixture, you might say of control and domination by the dark and the loss of knowledge as to what you had inherited, who you are as a soul and how that soul is connected to God, your relationship with your Creator. These two events have brought forth much suffering to humanity.

It is only because energies have been coming to Earth and helping to bring up that denseness on this level of experience, that humanity has been able to start trekking up towards that high plane again. We've discussed this before, but I wish to bring it forth another time. In this very dense level of experience, the particles that form this dimension have compressed, packed together very tightly so there is very little room between the particles. This is very important because room between the particles is required so that energy can move in and out of these particles. There is a play, so to speak between the particles on your planet and the ability of the energies that come from the center of the cosmos to be able to interact, to interchange, you might say dance with these particles. This actually represents your connection to memory. If the energy from the center of the cosmos cannot be brought into conjunction with the particles of your soul, of your brain, not mind, your brain, it inhibits memory because the brain has a connective function to the mind. The mind can cross through many dimensions. It can travel as you know, instantaneously. The mind can be in the present, the past and the future. It can work in the NOW, and you hear a lot about this with quantum physics, but as the mind works it brings back information to the human brain and that is why there is a connection between the mind and the brain.

If the particles in the brain are compacted in such a manner that you cannot remember your past, your journey so to speak, it prevents all that is available to you to come forth in the consciousness of who you are, in the conscious mind. This is an important understanding. What has happened is, as these energies are and have been ramped up, especially over this last year and especially since August of last year, there have been subtle changes going on in the brain. You have felt this. Each time the energies are ramped up, you notice many changes going through the physical body and it is because in a sense the receptors in the brain are changing. And so there has been much adjusting that has had to take place. So in a sense, you have been gradually expanding particles in the brain. You have become adjusted to it to a certain extent and now you might say, you are opening the doorway to the brain and its entrance into the mind with this coming blast of energy that is coming through on what you call the solstice.

And we rejoice in this, because it means that these particles now will be sitting in a manner that your receptivity to new energies will become unlimited. It is like a key that opens or unlocks a lock that enables you to access, shall we say beginning to access the memories of who you are. This is explosive information. Now just because you have the ability to remember does not necessarily mean that you will remember. There will be some acceptance on your part, so to speak. A soul, in our experience always has to work towards an established end. It is why this message is so important for you not only to hear

*but to heed, and what is necessary is to cooperate with the thought that there are doorways and gateways that are opening within your mind, so that you can connect to all that you are, all that you were. And that doorway of which we speak, of course begins in the brain. We would suggest that you intend that the brain, your brain make the most of what is coming in on this solstice. Intend that you are the master of all you survey in your world; your world, because it's not only an internal function, your world, but an external function.

As you know, what is in the inside, these thoughts that you hold attract similar thoughts that are on the outside. This is an incredibly powerful building block. Do not let this day go by without your intentions. It is time for you to remember who you are, because in that memory you bring forth abilities that you have not used since Atlantis. And so this, my beloved children is my message to you regarding the solstice. This is your Mother.

Our crop circle maker friend has come forth and he also wishes to comment upon the coming solstice, and he is saying;

This moment is, as the ones you know as Jeshua and Mother Mary have said is a very important moment upon your planet. Indeed it's a very important moment for all in the cosmos in the sense that the changes coming forth upon your planet from this moment through to the Ascension event in 2013 not only impact humanity but impact all of the cosmos. And so the events that are unfolding on your planet are being watched and monitored with great interest and intent by many beings in many dimensions.

Mother Mary has previously spoken about one view of creation being like a vase where Earth sits at the bottom of that vase, and when that bottom is lifted up, the entire vase is lifted up; and that indeed is what will happen. And so this solstice is a very, very important moment of preparation, you could say for what will be unfolding. So much change will be squeezed into this remaining 2 1/2 years, and in one sense this is intentional because transitions between major cycles are always limited in their length of time, you could say and that is what is happening here.

And so I just wanted to make a few comments and also to make you aware that it is our intention to bring forth a crop circle at the time of the solstice as a message to humanity about what is happening. And I do not wish to go into the detail of what will be in that pattern; I simply mention it now and I ask that if he is willing, Richard take my message about that pattern when it has come forth, so I can explain what is meant by it, what its importance is to humanity and how best to interpret and understand this pattern and embrace what is happening with that solstice. And so that is all I wish to say today.
