

So, what actually happened at the July 7th Eclipse?

Well, the eclipse of July 7th has come and gone. So, what actually happened?

Before the event, I sent out a message saying I anticipated major solar flares on the 7th associated with the energies from Source that Mother Mary and Lord Metatron spoke of in their message via Carolyn Evers. See <http://tinyurl.com/nw2gun>.

Did we see the solar flares?

A resounding “No”.

So did we see the energies from Source that Mother Mary and Lord Metatron had spoken of?

We certainly did!! And still are.

Here in Melbourne (Australia), the moment of the full moon was 7:38pm. Almost exactly 10 minutes before, a powerful wave of energy arrived. I am quite sensitive to energies, though I do not usually experience significant disruption with the energies of eclipses, equinoxes, full moons, etc. This was quite different.

Initially I felt as though every cell in my body began to vibrate. I had to focus on breathing, as though a weight was pressing down on my chest. I became nauseous – something I very rarely do. Gradually this settled down and I felt the energies focussed primarily on my heart centre, then spreading to my third eye. A couple of times in the next hour or so, I went to step forward and turn to the side as I did so and almost fell over. My balance was clearly unsettled. When I meditated, I experienced the energies primarily focussed in my heart centre – and if I meditate now, this is still my experience, because the energies are still with us.

So have others experienced them?

Yes. Some that have been in touch with me felt the energies in their heart, some reported the nausea and the loss of balance, some felt it in their third eye and elsewhere in their head. Some reported feeling them in their lower chakras, one of whom experienced an involuntary kundalini event. This lower chakra focus is consistent with the message from Archangel Michael via Celia Fenn - <http://tinyurl.com/nmkfls> and the message from Mother Mary I share with you below.

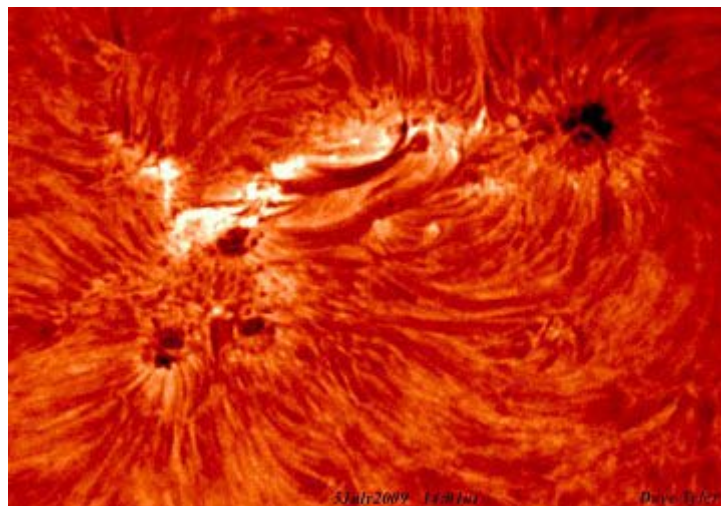

These are powerful, yet subtle energies. Some words from a dear friend of mine –
“Are helmets sold on your website? This July eclipse more intense than last year!!”

So what actually happened?

Some are aware of sunspot 1024, which emerged on July 4th, peaked on July 6th and then began to decay. This from July 6th at www.spaceweather.com:

SUDDEN SUNSPOT: What a difference 48 hours can make. Only two days ago the sun was blank and calm, displaying the sort of unrelenting quiet we've come to expect from the deepest solar minimum in a century. Then, with startling rapidity, sunspot 1024 burst onto the scene: movie. Unlike other recent "sun-specks", this active region is a full-fledged sunspot group with more than a dozen planet-sized dark cores, crackling with B- and C-class solar flares.

"Sunspot 1024 is putting on a spectacular show," says amateur astronomer David Tyler of Buckinghamshire UK, who caught it in mid-flare on July 5th:

"This is the best sunspot I've seen in two years," agrees Michael Buxton of Ocean Beach, California. "Here is a one-hour time lapse movie of activity in the sunspot's core. It is exciting to watch."

The magnetic polarity of sunspot 1024 identifies it as a member of new Solar Cycle 24. That makes sense. New research shows that solar jet streams are beginning to stimulate new-cycle sunspot production. Sunspot 1024 appears to be a sign of the process at work, heralding more to come. Monitoring is encouraged.

--END--

So, we had a major solar event which peaked on the 6th and by the 7th had already begun to decay, without producing a solar flare or CME, but sent us the spiritual energies I and others have experienced.

Is what unfolded consistent with the crop circles and the messages from Mother Mary and Lord Metatron received by Carolyn Evers?

Yes it is.

Firstly, there is nothing in the messages from Mother Mary and Lord Metatron about solar flares or CMEs.

Mother Mary - "There will be a blast of energy from the sun"

Lord Metatron - "What you see in the crop circles is showing energy as it moves and there are many recent crop circles showing how the energy is coming through, how it moves, but what we are giving you is the spiritual aspect of it."

Secondly, although those analysing the crop circles interpreted the messages as being related to solar flares, they applied just as well to the flow of the spiritual energies, as Lord Metatron indicated. Those considering these patterns are unlikely to have considered the notion of spiritual energies flowing from the sun.

And I anticipate the reason we saw the sunspot peak on the 6th is because of the time it takes for these energies to reach us. Whilst sunlight takes only 8 or so minutes to reach us, the energies of a CME or solar flare can take 1 to 4 days to reach Earth and the crop circle patterns suggest behaviour similar to a CME.

Further, those analysing the crop circles were expecting the activity to be on the 7th, whereas the energies were to arrive on Earth on the 7th at the time of the eclipse, as they did.

So what I wrote about expecting solar flares came from the crop circle interpretations, not from what our spiritual friends had to say – and I got it wrong, as they did. The road to wisdom is paved with experience and I've just added another paving stone.

One of the things I said was, although I expected it would be visible to the world, "it is not something that is likely to gain the attention of humanity in general."

I also said: "This is a marker for lightworkers. And in a sense it is a good thing that this is not an event that "Joe Public" will experience as a wake-up call, since the lightworkers of the world are not ready to support them."

And as I reflect on it, I see its exquisite perfection. Although the energies will impact everyone, it will only be in the awareness of those who have begun to look within.

Even the lunar eclipse was perfect. As a penumbral eclipse, it only led, visibly, to a minor level of dimming of the moon and unless you were aware that it was happening, you would have missed it completely. So, it was something of a “thief in the night”, speaking to lightworkers and others who have begun to awaken, yet only whispering to those who have not.

Messages from Jeshua and Mother Mary re the July 7th eclipse

And to clarify what actually occurred, after the eclipse Jeshua and Mother Mary had this to say:

Jeshua

You know that this is the beginning, only the beginning of this process. Energy has just started to come. Keep the information in front of the people. There are some who are aware of the energy and there are some who are not. It is the time for people to go within and to FEEL what's happening to their bodies as this energy is evolving. It's like a corkscrew. It has begun to twist or wend its way into Earth and into people's hearts and it can come and go without people being aware of it if they don't take the time and stop and consider what is happening to them.

Because this was and is energy from Source.

It is the love energy and it is gentle. It is like the rain on a calm evening. There is not the blustery winds or gales where the rain is coming down in sheets and torrents, but rather it is more like the gentle spring rain, coming to water dry fields of the farmer and unless the soul is looking upwards, and becoming aware of what is falling in their environment, they will miss it and say, “What is all this stuff about the eclipse? I didn't feel anything.”

They are not aware. They must open up their eyes, open up their hearts and greet this gentle, flowing energy.

You sent out information to help people to become aware and it is so easy for someone to discount that and say, “It isn't real.” But there is no-one who can be aware and pays attention to these energies and say it isn't happening. One must go within their heart to know that it is happening. The soul greets the heart and it identifies with this energy. It knows the relationship. It is the soul that is aware of the nature of what is streaming down on them, even in this moment.

And this is the beginning my, friends. The rest of these energies are going to increase in the shape and the sound and the feel of it but only if the eye and the heart is open.

And that is what you are doing – opening the eyes and the awareness so people can open their hearts.

Jeshua

Mother Mary

It is the grist of creation, the energy that has begun to come to the planet. It is a step, an opening of the door. This energy, as we have said, has come from Source and it had to begin as something very gentle. It could not come in as a dramatic blast, because it had to be something gentle. Understand what we have been saying. This is transformation and the physical must be respected. The foundations must be brought in as a gentle change, a beginning, a change of direction and therefore, the physical must be honoured.

It is, as my son said, like a gentle rain. It is preparing the soil for the seed that is about to come. So the soil must be prepared, ploughed and watered and the seed placed in the ground and from that is sprouted the crop.

And so, my lovely, beautiful ones, this eclipse is not just an eclipse per se, but rather it is the beginning of a process. It is the beginning of a process where there is great change in the physical body and if you have read or listened to the message that I gave earlier, there's dramatic changes that have begun in the brain. And there will be more coming and as they come, we will hold your hand. We will bring through these changes. We will discuss it with you. We don't wish at this moment to go further and delineate everything that is going to happen. We prefer to take one step at a time.

Focus on the energy. Enjoy it. Your journey is about experience, is it not? That is what your journey is about – experience. And so rather than describe every nuance of what has happened and is happening upon Earth, we would prefer announcing it, telling you that something transformative is on its way, to announce it to allow you to open up your hearts and experience it. Words do not matter. Whether you consider gateways or whether you have different descriptions that science brings forth and puts labels upon things... What is important is that you experience what is happening in your body, that you experience what is happening during meditation between the physical – what you feel, what you see in your third eye, and what is beginning to burn upward from that very first chakra at the base of the spine. It is the chakra that connects you to the Earth does it not? What a good place to start with energy - your connection to the Earth. And as the days move on and you start to feel and integrate the energy and this energy will move upward until it gets to the point where it is at the crown, free to fly.

We are in great joy to be here and invite you to be aware, to experience, to watch as the body awakens to your Creator.

You can listen to this recording at <http://tinyurl.com/l59jya>. It is a telephone recording. I will have a quality version available via the http://www.the2012countdown.com/The_2012_Time_Line.php page in a few weeks.

So I encourage you to go within. Begin to meditate if you do not already and follow the guidance of our spiritual friends. Know that this is just the beginning of the preparation for 2012 and transformations that will occur ahead of this date. These energies will only get more intense, so begin to work them as they unfold.
